

Robert G. Lawrence Prize
Invitation and Criteria

The Robert Lawrence Prize was established in 1995 by the Association to honour the memory and contribution of a valued member and friend. The prize recognizes the research of an emerging scholar who has presented an outstanding paper at the Association's yearly conference. The award of $200.00 is supported by the generous donations of Mrs Robert G. Lawrence.

The award is open to graduate students and emerging scholars who recently completed their PhD (less than five years) and who make a presentation at the annual CATR conference.

If you are an emerging scholar making a presentation at the conference and would like to be considered for the award, please make sure the president knows you are interested in being considered for the award before the conference begins. That way we can make sure members of the adjudication committee will be present at your panel.

Immediately following the conference, please forward a copy of your presentation to the president by email attachment.

The criteria for the award include the depth and detail of the paper as well as the quality of its presentation.
